NEW YEAR'S IN RIO DE JANEIRO

Any time of the year is great to visit Rio de Janeiro, but New Year's Eve in Copacabana is a must. For anyone who wants to start the forthcoming year with style, Rio is the place!

New Year's Eve is Rio's second most popular celebration, runner-up only to Carnival. People from all over the world, and Brazilians from all states, flock to the "Marvelous City" this time of the year. Copacabana is where the festivities happen, attracting over 2 million people every year. At midnight, with the turning of the year, the fireworks festival begins, lasting for about 15 to 20 minutes. Spectators on the beach, in buildings along the Copacabana ocean avenue and on board the giant cruise ships, have different points of view of the spectacle, but share the same exciting atmosphere and cheerful spirit that only Rio knows how to provide.

FIREWORKS IN COPACABANA

Copacabana beach is undoubtedly the best place to watch the fireworks festival. The sky and sea are painted in exquisite colors as the fireworks go off – It's hard to decide which direction to look at with fireworks popping all around you. The view of Copacabana Beach from above is really impressive. Over 2 million people take every inch of space on the beach, sidewalks and the avenue.

FIREWORKS ALL OVER

If you are not a fan of crowds and prefer a more calm environment at the turning of the year, Rio offers many other interesting options. The Rodrigo de Freitas lagoon and Barra da Tijuca beach have their own fireworks festival. Many Cariocas prefer going to these alternative locations to escape the masses. Although not as famous, they do not stay too much behind Copacabana.

PARTY AT THE PALACE

The Copacabana Palace has the most elegant New Year's Eve party in Rio. Its privileged location, right in the heart of the action, and its luxury status made it extremely disputed amongst the rich and famous. Overlooking out from Copa's iconic balcony at the crowds celebrating the arrival of a new year, is where the party takes place. There is also a special dinner on both restaurants in the hotel.

CELEBRATE À LA CARIOCA

There are many other incredible parties to attend. A few ocean front hotels have their own New Year's supper and party, and some of the best restaurants in town also have their special dinner package.

LUXURY HOTELS

Copacabana and Ipanema hotels are always a great option, specially if they have ocean view rooms. Watching the fireworks from a terrace by the seafront is an unique experience! There are also interesting options far from the sea, such as in the charming neighborhood of Santa Teresa.

However, rates for New Year's are always higher than usual. The period is often offered in prepaid packages, including a predetermined number of mandatory nights. As longer the package is, lower is the average night price. New Year's dinner and party have to be bought separately.

The iconic Copacabana Palace is certainly one of the most striking buildings on the Rio de Janeiro beachfront. Famous around the world, it keeps its charm from the twenties, with a glamorous and classic atmosphere.
